

Lesson 3

r, b, j, k

Nonsense words:

ab	bab	rab	af
bap	kas	jat	jaf

Real words:

ram	jam	jab	bat
ban	ran	rat	rap
map	lap	Jan	bam

Sight words

by	one	have
----	-----	------

Phrases:

ran a lap	sat by Jan
the ram ran	have one map

Rhyming words:

back - tack	pin - ban
sat - rat	trick - lick
jab - tab	late - fate
Sam - sack	ran - tan

Lesson 13

oi

coin	oil	boil	moist
void	spoil	avoid	hoist
point	noise	soil	voice
hoisted	toil	choice	pointer

Optional:

exploit	spoiling	choices	moisture oily	rejoice	poison	ointment

Sentences:

I avoided the oil spill.

The moist soil looked like reddish clay.

Review vowel sounds

Nonsense words:

gup	sneg	fliss	temp
blout	swut	glon	nint
clud	stant	flate	moip
groat	snoy	plaw	bleen

Lesson 28

micro	small	bio	life
meter	measure	scope	watch, see therm	heat	hydro	water microscope		microgram	microphone micrometer		speedometer	pedometer barometer		audiometer	thermometer thermal		thermostat	thermodynamics biology		biography	autobiography hydroscope		telescope	autobiographical hydrogen		hydrophone	hydrostate

Sentences:

The biography contained unusual dialogue.

The automobile's speedometer and thermostat were both broken.

Oxygen and carbon dioxide are necessary for respiration.

Lesson 29

biblio	book	metro	mother city; measure
crat, cracy	rule	polis	city geo	earth	dem	people bibliography		metropolis	metronome metropolitan		democrat	democracy geology		geologist	geopolitics geography		geometry	cosmopolitan police		political	autocratic demographics		demogog	epidemic aristocrat		aristocracy	politician

Sentences: Geometry is my very favorite subject.

The political candidates argued over demographic issues raised by the census.

The telephone book includes names of people living in the metropolitan area.