

Contents

Preface to the Third Edition ix

Acknowledgments xiii

1 Interviewing and Counseling in the Clinical Process i

Methods of Obtaining Information 3

Interviews 7

Concluding Comments 13

2 Prerequisites for Effective Interviewing and Counseling 15

Interviewer Characteristics 16

Conditions That Facilitate Good Communication 19

Concluding Comments 35

3 Physical and Emotional Factors That Affect Communication 37

Physical Environment 38

Clients' Characteristics: Attitudes and Background Factors 43

Psychological Factors: Emotions 55

Defensive Reactions and Defense Mechanisms 60

Concluding Comments 65

4 Skills and Techniques for Interviewing and Counseling 67

General Suggestions 68

Questions in an Interview 72

Behaviors in an Interaction 81

Several Fundamental Techniques 96

Concluding Comments 102

5 Obtaining Information 103

- Presession Orientation 105
- Opening an Interview 107
- Body of the Interview 112
- Closing the Interview 115
- Concluding Comments 116

6 Providing Information 119

- Conveying Information 120
- Basic Principles of Human Nature and Sharing Information 129
- Concluding Comments 138

7 Counseling 141

- Counseling Defined 142
- Characteristics of Good Counselors 143
- Counseling in Educational and Clinical Settings 143
- Approaches to Counseling 149
- The Process of Counseling 159
- The Counseling Session 161
- Aspects of Counseling 165
- Examining Personal Abilities and the Effects of Counseling 171
- Concluding Comments 173
- Appendix 7.A: Counseling Strategies Checklist 175
- Appendix 7.B: Evaluating Interviewing and Counseling Sessions (Checklist Format) 185

8 Working with Linguistically and Culturally Diverse Clients 187

- Variables That Influence Individuals from Different Cultures 189
- Impact of Immigrant or Refugee Status on Linguistically and Culturally Diverse Clients 192
- Values, Assumptions, and Linguistically and Culturally Diverse Clients 195
- Communicating Effectively When Interviewing and Counseling 204
- Suggestions for Increasing Personal Sensitivity 209
- Concluding Comments 214

9 Working with Difficult Situations 215

- Potentially Difficult Communication Behaviors 217
- Emotions, Attitudes, and Behaviors 231
- Other Factors, Conditions, and Situations 247
- Concluding Comments 256

10 Considerations in Working with Families of Children with Disabilities 257

- Poverty 259
- Strategies for Dealing with Parents or Other Family Members in Contentious Situations 264
- Issues of Parents and Families of Children with Disabilities 269
- Concluding Comments 272

11 The Elderly 275

- Larry Boles*
- Demographics of Aging 276
- Elder Culture 281
- Approaches to Counseling 281
- Concluding Comments 290

12 Ethical and Professional Matters 291

- Continuing Study 292
- Evaluation 293
- Representation of Professional Credentials 294
- Confidentiality and Patient Records 295
- Note Taking and Tape Recording 297
- Discussing Fees 298
- Making Referrals 299
- Reliability and Validity 301
- Being Culturally Aware 303
- Avoiding Discrimination 303
- Criticism of Other Professionals 305
- Inappropriate Personal Relationships 305
- Terminating Clinical Services 306
- Risk Management Strategies 308
- Concluding Comments 309

Appendix 12.A: Six Areas of Exposure to Risks of Conduct and Methods of Reducing These Risks 311

13 A Few Final Thoughts 315

References 321

Index 335

About the Authors 347