Chapter 1. Introduction to Autism 1

What Is Autism?	1
Characteristics	3
Communication and Language Deficits	3
Cognitive Deficits	4
Social Deficits	6
Sensory Processing Deficits	7
Stereotypic Behavior	7
Theories About Autism	9
Diagnosis	11
Autism Resources	11
Summary	12
References	16

Chapter 2. Applied Behavior Analysis 17

The A–B–C Model	17
Antecedents	19
Behaviors	21
Consequences	22
Data Collection	31
Data Collection Systems	32
Graphing	36
Summary	39
References	41

Chapter 3. Instructional Strategies: Discrete Trial 43

Discrete Trial Teaching	43
How to Conduct DTT	44
Planning	64
Things to Avoid	64
Advantages and Disadvantages	64
Summary	69
References	69

Chapter 4. Instructional Strategies: Naturalistic/Milieu Teaching and Grouping 71

Naturalistic/Milieu Teaching	71
Procedures	72
Planning	78
Advantages and Disadvantages	80
Interaction of DTT and Naturalistic/Milieu Teaching	82
Grouping	83
Sequential Group Instruction	86
Concurrent Group Instruction	86
Tandem Group Instruction	87

Summary	87
References	88

Chapter 5. Providing Structure in the Classroom 89

Structuring Through Procedures and Routines	90
Teach a First–Then Procedure	93
Teach Left–Right Orientation and Top–Down Orientation	93
Teach Waiting	93
Teach Finishing	94
Refrain From Changing Routines and Procedures	94
Structuring Through Visual Schedules	94
Whole-Class Schedules	94
Individual Schedules	97
Structuring With Visual Supports	101
Visual Support Through Physical Organization	102
Visual Support Through Materials	103
Visual Support Through Video and Computers	108
Additional Visual Supports	108
TEACCH	110
Summary	112
References	114

Chapter 6. Supervision of Teaching Adults 115

Roles and Responsibilities	115
Paraprofessional	116
Shadow	116
Speech–Language Pathologist	116
Occupational Therapist	117
Physical Therapist	118
Adaptive Physical Education Teacher	118
School Nurse	118
School Psychologist	119
Behavior Specialist	119
Job Coach	119
Creating an Educational Team	120
Team Building	120
Consistency	120
Communication	121
Coordination, Consultation, and Problem Solving	122
Coordination	122
Consultation and Training	124
Problem Solving	125
Summary	126
References	127

Chapter 7. Curriculum Development 129

Curricular Considerations	131
Curriculum Development Process	133
Setting Long-Term Goals	133
Developing an Individualized Curricular Inventory	133
Refining the Curriculum	135

Determining What to Teach This Year	139
Choosing Academic Goals	139
Determining Current Functioning Level Within a Curriculum	140
Units of Instruction	140
Writing Goals and Objectives	142
Learning Levels	143
A Word About Generalization	144
Summary	145
References	145

Chapter 8. Collecting Progress Data 147

Progress Data Collection Techniques	147
Developing Recording Forms	152
When to Collect Progress Data	160
Notebook Files	163
Summary	163
Appendix: Progress Data Collection Forms	167
Event Recording With Prompt Notations for a Task Analysis, With Graphing Option	168
Event Recording With Numbered Prompt Notations, With Graphing Option	169
Duration Recording Form	170
Rate Data Form	171
Task Analytic Data Form With Prompt Levels and Graphing Option	172
Trial-by-Trial Data Sheet	173
Trial-by-Trial Data Sheet With Preprinted Codes	174
Data Collection Sheet for Use With Controlled Presentations	175
Naturalistic/Milieu Teaching Progress Data Form	176
Naturalistic/Milieu Progress Data Form With Preprinted Codes	177

Chapter 9. Teaching Language and Communication Skills 179

Language Characteristics	179
Components of Language	180
Verbal Operants	181
Assessing Language and Communication	182
Assessment of Basic Language and Learning Skills	183
Additional Assessment Strategies	184
Choosing the Best Form of Communication	185
Augmentative and Alternative Communication Systems	186
Choosing an AAC System	190
Teaching Strategies	191
Manding	192
Motor Imitation	193
Verbal Imitation	193
Receptive Language	193
Tacting	193
Intraverbals	194
Additional Teaching Strategies	194
Summary	195
References	196
Appendix: Assessment of Language Function and Form	199

Chapter 10. Socialization and Inclusion 201

Socialization Characteristics of Students With Autism	201
Socialization and Inclusion	201
Strategies for Teaching Socialization Skills	204
Teacher-Mediated Interventions	205
Peer-Mediated Interventions	209
Facilitating Generalization of Social Skills	211
Summary	212
References	212

Chapter 11. Functional Behavioral Assessment 215

How to Conduct a Functional Assessment	217
Step 1. Gather Indirect Data About the Behavior and the Context(s) in Which It Occurs	217
Step 2. Conduct Observations in Contexts Associated With the Challenging Behaviors	219
Step 3. Analyze Data	226
Step 4. Develop Hypotheses	229
Step 5. Develop an Intervention Plan	232
Step 6. Monitor the Interventions	234
Summary	234
References	236
Appendix: Functional Behavioral Assessment Forms	237
Brief Functional Assessment Interview Form	238
Functional Behavioral Assessment Inventory	239
Functional Analysis Screening Tool (FAST)	243
Antecedent–Behavior–Consequence (A–B–C) Report Form	246
Structured A–B–C (Antecedent–Behavior–Consequence) Analysis Form	248
Hypothesis Development Form	250
Behavior Management Analysis Chart	251

Chapter 12. Reducing Challenging Behaviors 253

Positive Behavioral Supports	253
Behavior Intervention Plans	253
Antecedent Strategies for Preventing Challenging Behaviors	254
Consequence Strategies for Reducing Challenging Behaviors	258
Differential Reinforcement	258
Extinction	262
Response Cost	262
Time-Out	264
Aversives	264
Overcorrection	267
Other Interventions for Reducing Challenging Behaviors	268
Summary	268
References	270
Appendix: Behavior Intervention Plan	271

Chapter 13. Collecting Data for Monitoring Behaviors Targeted for Reduction 273

Forms for Event Recording	273
Forms for Duration Recording	275

Forms for Recording Multiple Behaviors or Monitoring Behaviors in Multiple Students	276
Developing and Using Data Collection Forms	279
Summary	280
Appendix: Data Collection Forms for Behaviors Targeted for Reduction	289
Restricted Event Recording Form (With Calculations)	290
Restricted Event Recording Form (Without Calculations)	291
Multiple Restricted Event Recording Form	292
Unrestricted Event Recording Form (Rate of Occurrences)	293
Unrestricted Event Recording Form (Total Occurrences)	294
Self-Graphing Data Collection Chart for Unrestricted Event Recording	295
Form for Recording Multiple Unrestricted Event Behaviors Over Multiple Activities	296
Duration Recording Form	297
Self-Graphing Data Collection Form for Duration Recording	298
Form for Recording Total Time Accumulated When Monitoring Duration of Behavior	299
Form for Monitoring Multiple Target Behaviors	300
Form for Monitoring Multiple Target Behaviors (Self-Graphing)	301
Form for Simultaneously Monitoring One Restricted Event Behavior for More Than One Student	302
Form for Simultaneously Monitoring Different Target Behaviors for Multiple Students	303
Chapter 14. Interventions for Specific Challenging Behaviors	305
Noncompliance	306
Aggression	307
Stereotypic Behaviors	308
Self-Injurious Behavior	311
Summary	311
References	313
Chapter 15. Understanding and Working With Families	315
Challenges for Families of Children With Autism	315
The Struggle to Figure Out What Is Wrong	315
Learning to Live With Autism	316
A Child With Autism May Affect All Aspects of Family Life	318
Essential Practices in Effective Home–School Collaboration	318
Know Yourself	321
Know Your Families	321
Maintain Regular and Frequent Communication	322
Types of Support Needed by Families	327
Summary	328
References	328
Chapter 16. Epilogue	331
References	338
