

Matt and Molly Are Getting Hungry

Picture 1 Matt and Molly are in school. They're sitting at their desks doing their work.

Picture 2 Matt and Molly are getting hungry. Their empty stomachs start to growl. Matt gets an idea!

Picture 3 Matt says, "Molly, I have a box of raisins in my pocket. Put out your hand and I'll give you some." The teacher is surprised to see Matt and Molly eating during class time. She says, "This is not the time to eat in school!"

Wh- Question

When is it okay to eat in school?

during a class party or during lunchtime

(HINT FOR STUDENT — The answer to a "when" question is going to be a time of the day, week, or year.)

Picture 4a Mom brought raisins and celery sticks to school for Matt's birthday. It's okay to eat raisins and celery sticks in school during a class party.

Picture 4b Dad put a box of raisins in Molly's lunchbox. It's okay to eat raisins in school during lunchtime.

Part of Speech — Noun

A noun is a word that is a person, place, or thing.

school	pocket	*Mom
desks	hand	*Matt
stomachs	teacher	*Molly
box	celery sticks
raisins	lunchbox

* We call the noun a proper noun if it is the name of a person, place, or thing.

Suggested Props

Two desks and two chairs

Two sheets of lined paper and two pencils

Box of raisins

Celery sticks

Happy birthday balloon or sign

Lunch table — Push together three desks and use three more chairs. "Lunch area" should be separate from "classroom area."

One lunchbox and two lunch bags

Teacher — long, pull-on skirt

Student — short pull-on skirt

Matt — white T-shirt

Molly — red, pull-on skirt