

About the Authors

Gary Cozzens is currently the School-to-Careers/Transition Coordinator for the Region IX Education Cooperative in Ruidoso, New Mexico and the Interim School-to-Careers Coordinator for the Otero Regional Area Partnership. Previously he was a transition consultant for the CIRCLE of Life Transition Demonstration Grant for the State of New Mexico. He is currently the President of the New Mexico Council for Exceptional Children's Division of Career Development and Transition. He is also the editor of the New Mexico school-to-work newsletter Careers.

Carol Dowdy has worked in the area of special education for over 20 years. She began her work in transition with students with learning disabilities and mental retardation. Currently, she serves as a consultant on an interdisciplinary team that works to facilitate the transition process for individuals with disabilities being served by the Vocational Rehabilitation Agency in Alabama. Dr. Dowdy has published several articles and chapters on transition. She is also a co-author of methods and introductory textbooks in special education and is one of the co-editors of the PRO-ED Series on Transition.

Dr. Dowdy is a professor and program coordinator for special education at the University of Alabama at Birmingham. She is on the board of directors for the National Council for Learning Disabilities and is on the professional advisory boards of the Learning Disabilities Associations of America and Alabama.

Tom E. C. Smith, EdD, is currently professor of special education and Associate Dean of the College of Education, University of Arkansas at Little Rock (UALR). Prior to his appointment at UALR, he served as chairperson of the Department of Special Education at the University of Alabama at Birmingham and was the Program Coordinator of the Special Education Program at the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville. He is the co-author of Teaching Students with Special Needs in Inclusive Settings and Children and Adults with Learning Disabilities. In 1992, President Clinton appointed him to the President's Committee on Mental Retardation. He is also the Executive Director of the Division on Mental Retardation and Developmental Disabilities, Council for Exceptional Children. He can be reached at the following address: Tom E. C. Smith, College of Education, UALR, Little Rock, AR 72204.