

Contents

Preface to Series ■ v

Introduction ■ 1

What Is Planned Ignoring? ■ 1

With Young Children ■ 1

At School ■ 2

At Home ■ 2

Exercises To Demonstrate the Effects of Planned Ignoring ■ 3

Exercise 1: Unwanted Telephone Solicitations ■ 3

Exercise 2: The Effects of Planned Ignoring on Someone
Who Interrupts ■ 4

Exercise 3: The Effects of Planned Ignoring on Conversation ■ 5

Defining Planned Ignoring ■ 6

Basic Steps in Using Planned Ignoring ■ 7

Step 1: Define or Pinpoint the Behavior You Want To Change ■ 7

Practice in Pinpointing ■ 8

Step 2: Measure the Behavior Selected ■ 10

Counting Behaviors ■ 10

Timing Behaviors ■ 11

Recording the Behavior ■ 12

Charting Behavior ■ 13

Exercise: Charting Behavior (optional) ■ 14

Step 3: Set a Goal for the Target Behavior ■ 14

Step 4: Decide What Kind of Planned Ignoring To Use ■ 14

Expect the Behavior To Increase ■ 16

Aggressive Behavior May Occur ■ 17

Attending to Appropriate Behavior ■ 17

Step 5: Rehearse Planned Ignoring ■ 17

Role-Playing Recording Sheet ■ 18

Planned Ignoring Procedures ■ 18

Being Consistent Once You Begin ■ 19

Step 6: Select What Procedures To Use	20
Recording Sheet: Role-Playing Planned Ignoring	21
Giving Attention to the Behavior You Do Want	21
When To Use Planned Ignoring	22
Step 7: Review	22
Step 8: Implement Your Program	24
Step 9: Evaluate the Results	26
Charting Behavior Exercise (optional)	27
What To Do If Planned Ignoring Does Not Work	27
Where To From Here?	28
Program Follow-up	29
Raw Data Sheet	31
References and Further Reading	33

© copyrighted material by PRO-ED, Inc.