Oh, no! I want a clean face!

Peggy Pig said, "Oh, no! I want a clean face!"

Peggy Pig went to the pond one morning. She wanted a drink. She looked in the water, and she saw her dirty face.

Peggy said, "Oh, no! I want a clean face!"

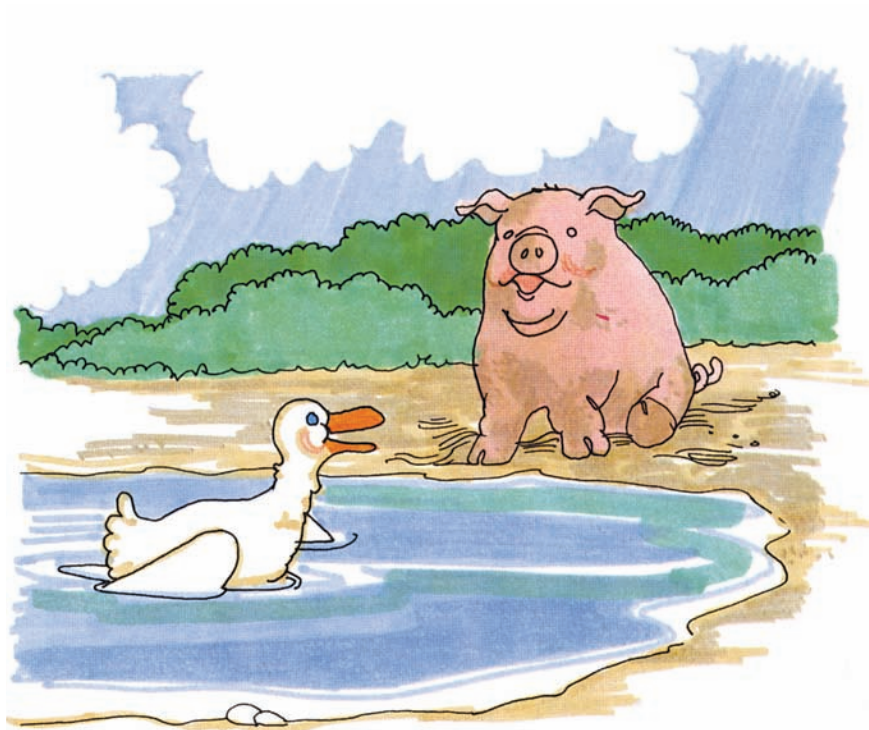

Peggy looked in the water again. She saw her dirty legs.

Peggy said, "I need help! I will ask the duck. He will help me!"

Peggy looked for the duck. She found the duck in the pond.

Peggy asked, “Will you help me? I am dirty. I want a clean face, and I want clean legs.”

The duck said, "I will help you. I swim in the pond, and I am clean. You swim in the pond."
