

About the Authors

Gary W. Lawson, PhD, is a professor in the Department of Psychology and Family Studies at the United States International University in San Diego, California. He is a licensed psychologist in California, doing consulting and private practice. Dr. Lawson has 30 years' experience in the field of chemical dependency, including directing both inpatient and outpatient chemical dependency treatment programs. He has published numerous articles and presented related materials both nationally and internationally. His books include Alcoholism and the Family: A Guide to Treatment and Prevention, Psychopharmacology for Nonmedical Psychotherapists, Alcoholism and Substance Abuse in Special Populations, and Adolescent Substance Abuse: Etiology, Treatment and Prevention.

Ann W. Lawson, PhD, is a professor of marriage and family therapy in the United States International University in San Diego, California, and a licensed marriage and family therapist in private practice. She has worked in the addictions field for 23 years, including developing and directing the Children From Alcoholic Families Program at Lincoln-Lancaster Child Guidance Center in Lincoln, Nebraska. She was the clinical supervisor for an adolescent shelter in San Diego for 8 years. She has conducted national and international training, is a clinical member of the American Association of Marriage and Family Therapists, and is an approved supervisor. Her books include Alcoholism and the Family: A Guide to Treatment and Prevention, Alcoholism and Substance Abuse in Special Populations, Adolescent Substance Abuse: Etiology, Treatment and Prevention, and Kids and Gangs and Essentials of Chemical Dependency Counseling (2nd ed.).

Erik Schoen has been a professional counselor since receiving his master's degree in counseling from Arizona State University in 1993. He received the Carl Perkins National Advocacy award in 2008 from the American Counseling Association in recognition of his statewide leadership in establishing licensure for professional counselors in Nevada. Since 2009, Erik has been an instructor with the Center for the Application of Substance Abuse Technologies at the University of Nevada, Reno, where he received the "Senior Scholar Mentor" distinction for being chosen as the most influential faculty member for the top graduate from the largest college at the university. Mr. Schoen is currently the Deputy Director at Community Chest, where he has worked for over 18 years. In this capacity, Mr. Schoen works within communities to help develop positive, strengths-based, and collaborative approaches to addressing myriad issues that face communities so that all have what they need not only to survive but also to thrive.