

CONTENTS

A Message From the Authors ix
Acknowledgments xi
List of Acronyms xiii

CHAPTER 1 Speech–Language Services in the Educational System: Trends and Considerations 1

Speech–Language Services in Public Schools. 1
Educational Reforms That Shaped the Profession 2
Children and Families in the 21st Century 6
The Condition of Education 12
Predictions for the Future 14

CHAPTER 2 The Legislative Foundation of Educational Services for Special Student Populations. 17

The Legislative History of Education for Struggling Learners 18
The Interface of General and Special Education:
The Elementary and Secondary Education Act and the Individuals With Disabilities Education Improvement Act of 2004 . . . 28
The Individuals With Disabilities Education Improvement Act of 2004 39
Federal Laws That Prohibit Disability Discrimination 55

CHAPTER 3 Referral and Assessment 63

Child Find Obligations. 63
Avenues to Referral 64
Multi-Tiered System of Supports: Response to Intervention and Early Intervening Services 66
Screening Procedures 77
Instruction and Interventions in a School Improvement Environment 78
The Prereferral Prevention–Intervention Process 79
The Referral Process 84
Assessment for Speech, Language, and Hearing Disabilities 86
The Assessment Report 114
Independent Educational Evaluation 117
Additional Resources 119

CHAPTER 4	The IEP Process and Procedures	121
	The IEP Meeting Process.	122
	Recordkeeping and Documentation.	162
	Annual and Triennial Assessments	166
	Exit or Dismissal Criteria.	167
CHAPTER 5	Service Delivery Options in Schools	169
	The Concept of Service Delivery	170
	Service Delivery for Prevention Services.	170
	Service Delivery in Special Education	172
	Functional Outcomes and the School-Based Speech-Language Pathologist.	190
	Additional Resources	202
CHAPTER 6	Providing Successful Intervention and Access to Curricula	205
	Caseload, Workload, and Service Delivery.	206
	Scheduling and Organizing Services	210
	Grouping Strategies.	219
	Consultation and Collaboration	223
	Literacy, Reading, and Writing	234
	Serving Students in Preschool	239
	Services for Secondary Students	248
	Additional Resources	254
CHAPTER 7	Specialized Service Delivery for Specialized Student Needs	257
	Students Who Are Culturally and Linguistically Diverse	258
	Infants and Toddlers.	266
	Children With Autism Spectrum Disorder	274
	Students Who Use Assistive Technology and Augmentative and Alternative Communication	285
	Student Head Injuries or Athletes With Sports-Related Concussions	297
	Homebound, Homeschooled, Hospital-Bound, Suspended or Expelled, or Incarcerated Children and Youth	297
	Additional Resources	299
CHAPTER 8	Procedural Safeguards, Legal Protections, and Appeal Procedures	301
	Parental Notification and Involvement	302
	Resolution Sessions, Mediation, Due Process Hearings, and State IDEA Complaints	307

Working With Families.	319
Additional Resources	325
CHAPTER 9 The Work World of Speech–Language Pathologists in Public Schools	327
Certification and Licensing.	328
Securing a Position	333
Organizational Structures	338
Funding	338
Speech–Language Pathologists’ Roles and Responsibilities	344
Speech–Language Pathology Assistants and Aides in Schools	345
The Roles and Responsibilities of Educational Audiologists	349
Ethics	351
Professional Organizations.	354
Teacher Unions	358
Liability and Insurance.	359
Whom to Ask When You Have a Question on the Job.	361
Continuing Education	366
Additional Resources	369
CHAPTER 10 The Enhanced Future for School-Based Speech–Language Pathologists	371
Foundations for Envisioning the Future	372
Educational Services in the 21st Century.	377
Our Predicted Future: Speech–Language Pathologists in Public Schools	382
Speech–Language Pathologists’ Future Watch:
Expanded Practice and Professionalism	387
Appendix: To Screen or Not to Screen . . . That Is the Question	391
References	399
Subject Index	421
About the Authors	431