▲ Brenda Brumbaugh

▲ Nan Thompson-Trenta

Brenda Brumbaugh, M.A., CCC is a speech-language pathologist for the Perry Local School System in Massillon, Ohio. She works with children from preschool through high school who have communication disorders.

Nan Thompson-Trenta, M.A., is a speech-language pathologist for the San Diego Unified School District in San Diego, California. She works with children from preschool through sixth grade who have communication disorders. She also provides language and listening lessons for preschool classes, kindergarten classes, and special education classes. Nan and her husband, Paul, have a son, Sam.

Brenda and Nan are interested in creating language and listening materials that can be used in small group or classroom settings. They are also co-authors of LinguSystems' Listening for Basic Concepts All Year 'Round and Listening for Vocabulary All Year 'Round.
