

About the Author

Suzanne Mayer Watt, M.A., CCC is a Speech-Language Pathologist. She has worked with language-learning disordered students in San Diego area public schools for the past eleven years. Her experience has been at the elementary and secondary levels in both classroom and therapy settings. No-Glamour Grammar is her first publication with LinguiSystems.

January 1986

Dedication

I would like to acknowledge Carolyn Matzinger, my close friend and associate, for her unending inspiration and guidance. She not only helped me to see the need for this program, but also provided assistance in each step of its development.

Sincere thanks also to my husband, Larry, for his contributions and support, and for allowing me the time to work on this project. Also, special thanks to my sister, Roxanna Johnson, for all of her efforts.