

Introduction

So many students! So many different language goals! So many weeks of the school year! How ever will you do it? Relax — Autism & PDD Picture Stories & Language Activities would like to introduce you to your new best friends — Matt and Molly. These two lovable kids will assist you in targeting your receptive and expressive language goals through funny stories and hands-on activities. There are plenty of stories to motivate you and your students throughout the entire school year. The activities are so flexible that you can use them with one student, a small group, or an entire class.

Autism & PDD Picture Stories & Language Activities is the perfect opportunity for the speech-language pathologist to collaborate with the classroom teacher. The stories have been developed to coordinate with early educational themes.

Patti