

Binoculars

Picture 1: Matt has some binoculars. Matt is going to look for birds.

Picture 2: Matt looks through the binoculars a first time. He sees a bluebird sitting in the tree.

Picture 3: Matt looks through the binoculars a second time. He sees a red bird sitting in the tree.

Picture 4: Matt looks through the binoculars a third time. He sees Molly sitting in the tree!
Matt says, "Hey, you're not a bird. You're a girl!"

Yes/No Questions

1. Is Molly in this story?
2. Is Matt in this story?
3. Is Matt holding binoculars in his hands?
4. Is Matt going to look for squirrels?
5. Is Matt going to look for birds?
6. Does Matt see a bluebird in the tree first?
7. Does Matt see a red bird in the tree second?
8. Does Matt see Molly in the tree third?
9. Is Molly a bird?
10. Is Molly a girl?

Wh- and How Questions

1. Who is in this story?
2. What is Matt holding in his hands?
3. What is Matt going to look for?
4. What does Matt see in the tree first?
5. What does Matt see in the tree second?
6. What does Matt see in the tree third?
7. How do you think Matt feels when he sees Molly in the tree?
8. If Molly is not a bird, then what is she?
9. Who in this group has looked through binoculars before?
10. Why is it good to use binoculars when you look for birds?

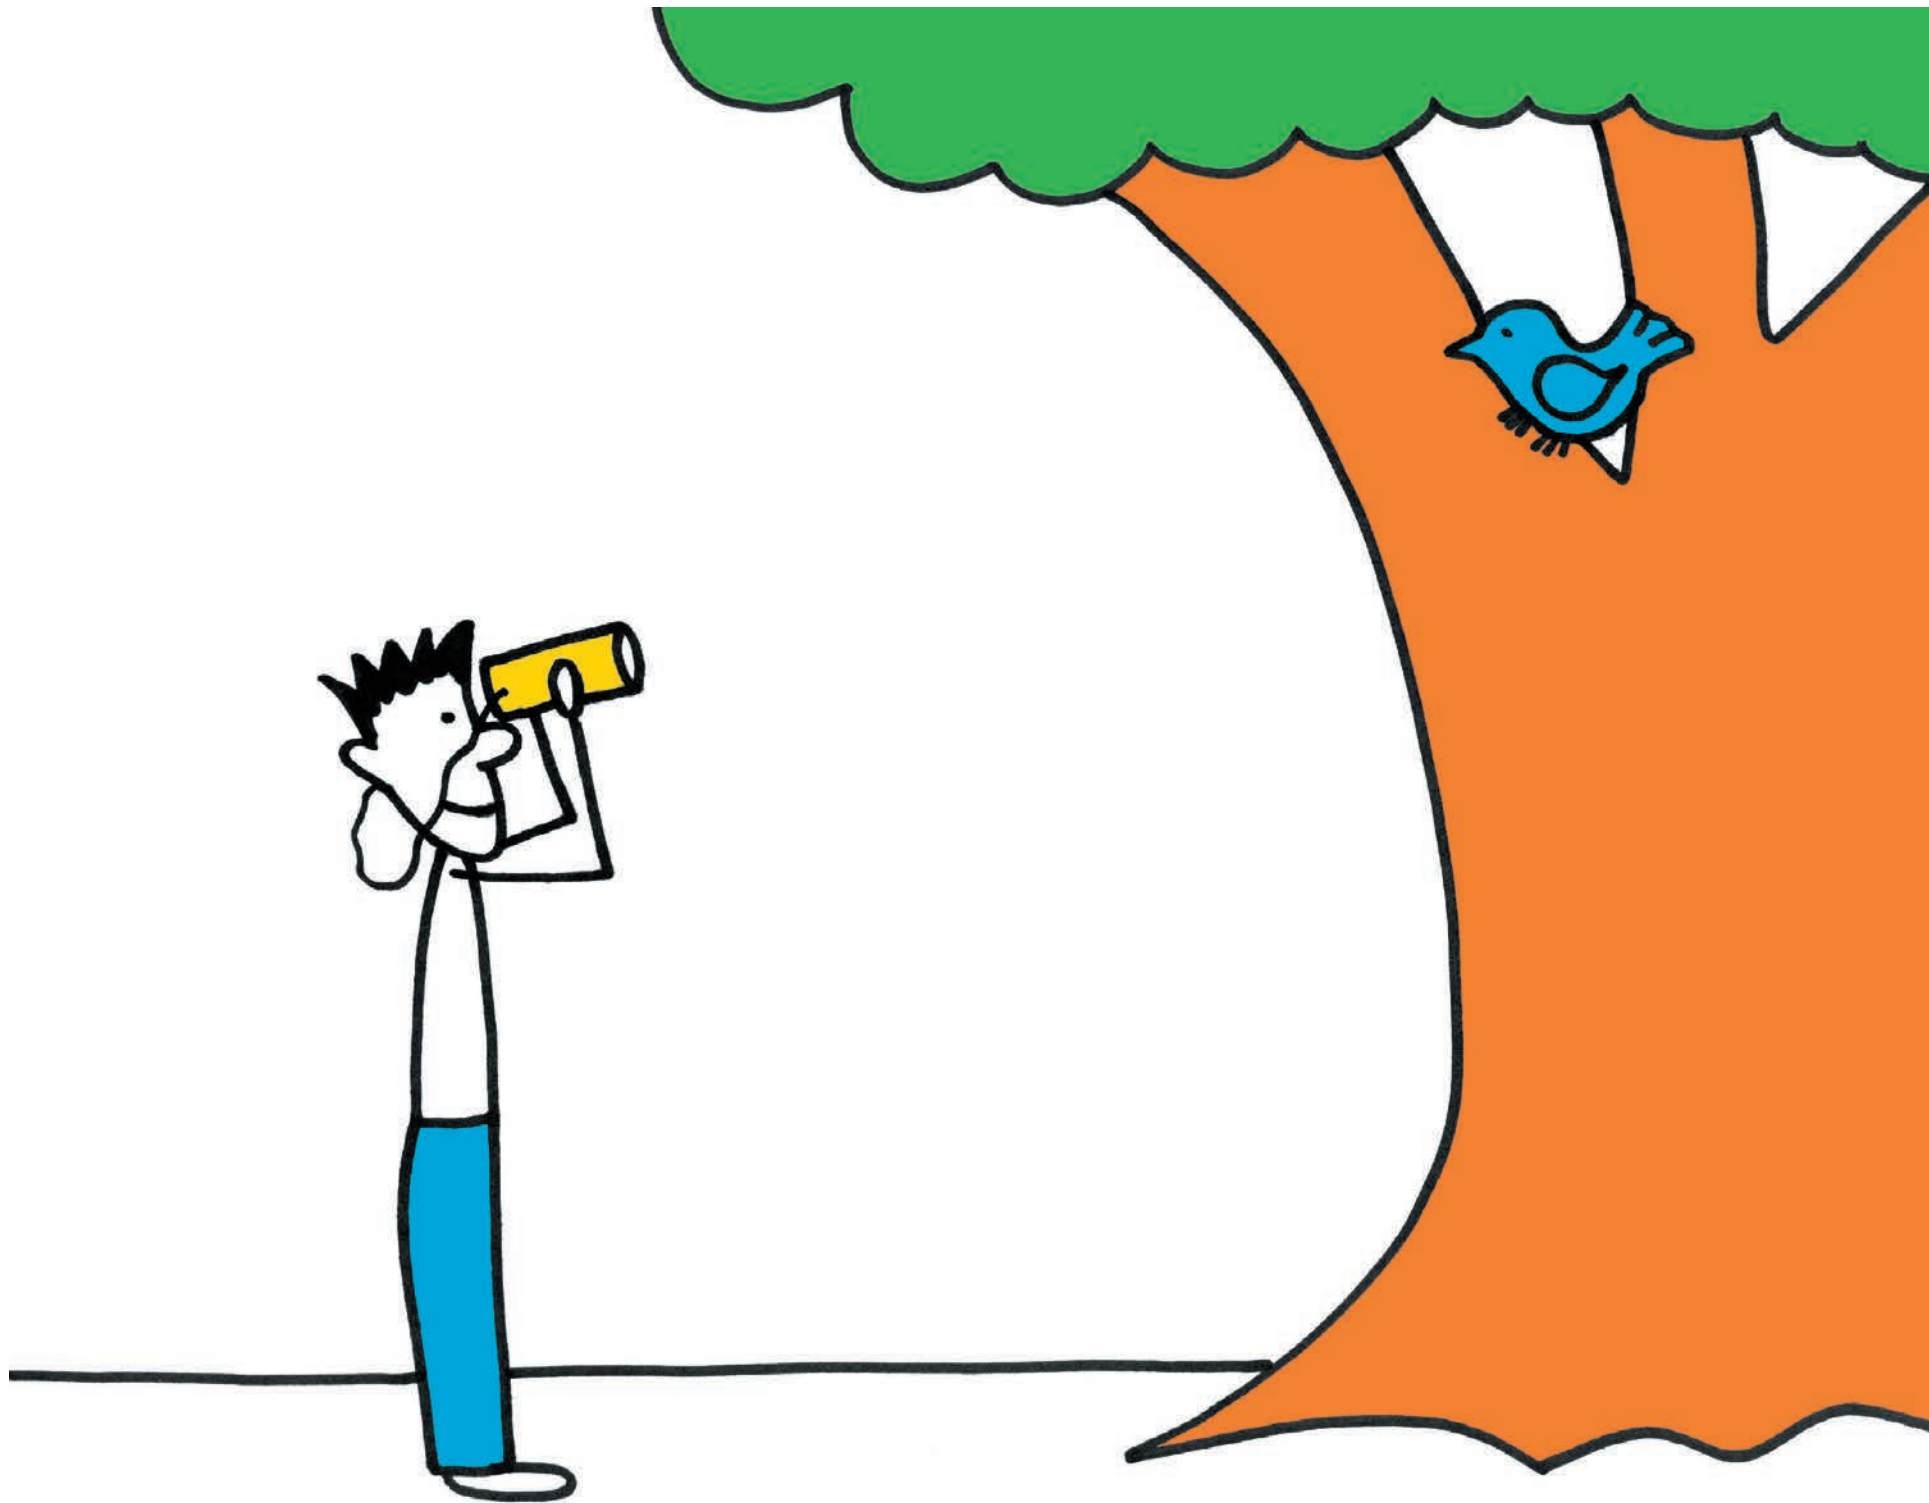

Suggested Props

binoculars — real ones or made from toilet paper rolls (Tape together two empty toilet paper rolls, punch a hole in each tube, and tie a piece of string to them.)

tree — a chair or a desk bluebird — a student wearing blue or a toy bird held by a student

(Have the student stand on a chair or desk.)

red bird — a student wearing red or a toy bird held by a student
(Have the student stand on a chair or desk.)

Matt has some binoculars.

Binoculars

Matt sees a bluebird sitting in the tree.

Binoculars

Matt sees a red bird sitting in the tree.

Binoculars

Matt sees Molly sitting in the tree!

Binoculars