

About the Author

Karen A. Czarnik, Ph.D., CCC-SLP/L is an Associate Professor in the Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders at Saint Xavier University in Chicago, Illinois. She teaches both undergraduate and graduate courses in the areas of clinical methods, developmental disorders of speech, fluency, and research methods. She is also a clinical educator in the areas of prevention, diagnostics, and treatment at Saint Xavier University. In addition to working at the university, Karen has worked in the public schools and in private practice. She regularly conducts presentations for state and local professional and parent organizations on the topics of Fluency Disorders, Language Processing, Sound Production Disorders, and Childhood Apraxia of Speech.

Acknowledgments

I thank all those who supported me throughout the process of creating this treatment program. I would like to thank my family, Geo, Chris, and Jess, for their patience with both my absence and my many piles of books and articles that sent our home into chaos. I would also like to thank my colleagues, Gail Harris-Schmidt, Pamela Klick, Maureen Schmitt, Carol Szymanski, Donna Polelle, Kim Davis, and Kim Miller, who read draft after draft of this program and who listened to me think aloud.

I would also like to acknowledge the researchers/clinicians whose work has guided my clinical and academic focus in the area of Childhood Apraxia of Speech: Edythe Strand, Shelley Velleman, Richard Schmidt, Michael Crary, Penelope Hall, Judy Michels Jelm, Nancy Kaufman, and John Rosenbek. Thank you for your dedication to clients with apraxia of speech and for sharing your expertise with the profession.